

Testing of Access Keys and Alt Tags

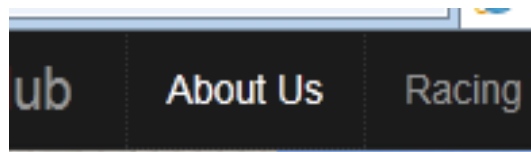

Access Keys

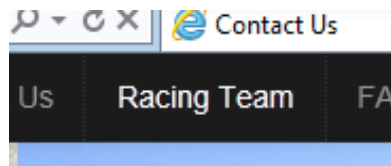

The screenshot above shows a list of access key shortcuts that have been incorporated into the Oval Ski Club website.

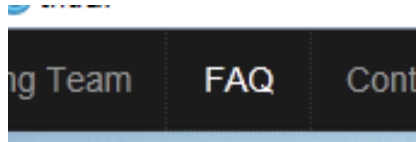

When pressing Alt+1, the “OvalSkiClub” link is highlighted.

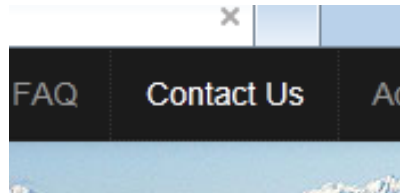

When pressing Alt+2, the “About Us” link is highlighted.

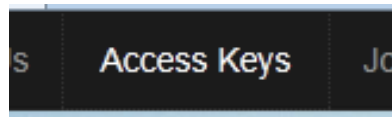

When pressing Alt+3, the “Racing Team” link is highlighted.

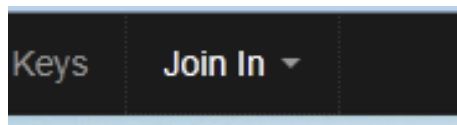

When pressing Alt+4, the “FAQ” link is highlighted.

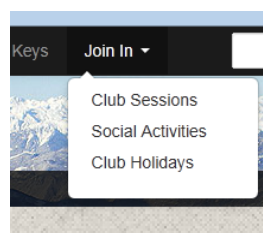

When pressing Alt+5, the “Contact Us” link is highlighted.

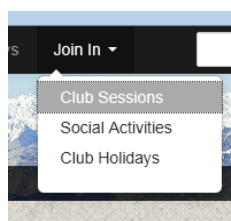

When pressing Alt+6, the “Access Keys” link is highlighted.

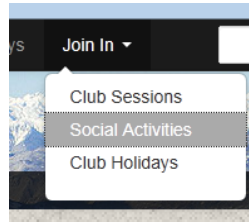

When pressing Alt+7, the “Join In” dropdown menu is highlighted.

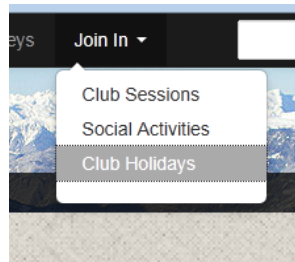

After pressing “Enter” on the keyboard, the menu inside the dropdown box is shown.

When pressing Alt+8, the “Club Sessions” link is highlighted.

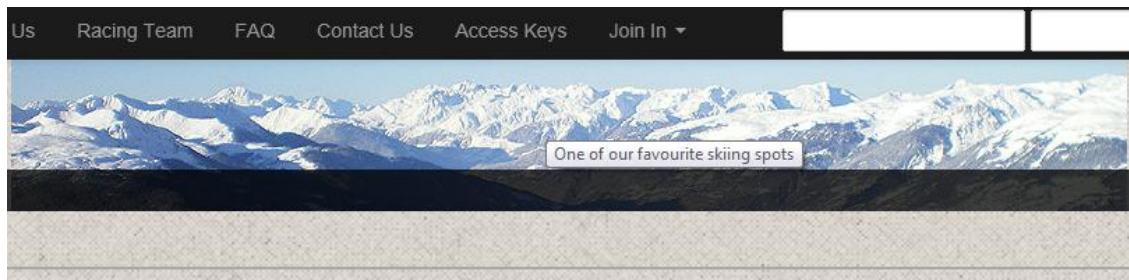

When pressing Alt+9, the “Social Activities” link is highlighted.

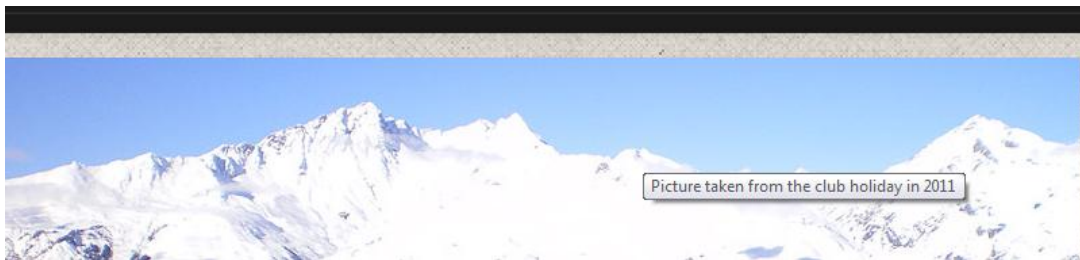

When pressing Alt+0, the “Club Holidays” link is highlighted.

Alt Tags

This is the Alt tag on the “Homepage” which says “One of our favourite skiing spots”.

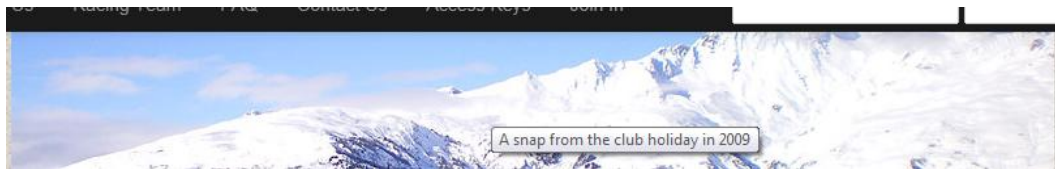

This is the Alt tag on the “About Us” webpage which says “Picture taken from the club holiday in 2011”.

This is the Alt tag on the “Racing Team” webpage which says “A picture of the accommodation we stayed in during our 2009 skiing club holiday”.

This is the Alt tag on the “FAQ” webpage which says “A picture from our club holiday in 2007”.

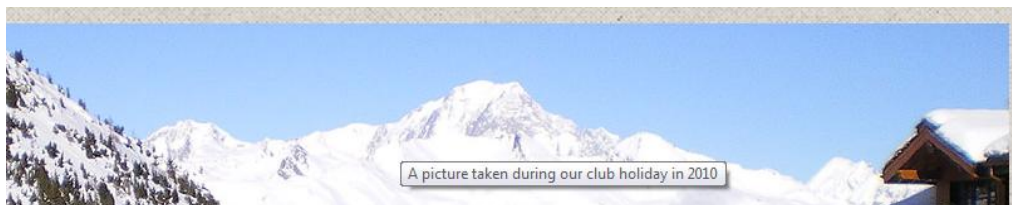

This is the Alt tag on the “Contact Us” webpage which says “A snap from the club holiday in 2009”.

This is the Alt tag on the “Access Keys” webpage which says “Picture taken from the club holiday in 2011”.

This is the Alt tag on the “Club Sessions” webpage which says “A chalet we stayed in during one of the skiing races we took part in earlier this year”.

This is the Alt tag on the “Social Activities” webpage which says “A picture taken during our club holiday in 2010”.

This is the Alt tag on the “Club Holidays” webpage which says “Club holiday 2010”.

This is the Alt tag on the “Club Holidays” webpage which says “Club holiday 2011”.

This is the weather information image Alt tag, that is on every webpage of the Oval Ski Club website.